A MESSAGE FROM YORK REGION CHAIRMAN AND CEO AND MEMBERS OF REGIONAL COUNCIL

Housing is a key social determinant of health, and York Regional Council is committed to building complete communities with a full range of housing options and services to support residents at all ages and stages of their lives. This commitment includes investing in affordable housing and working with community partners and all levels of government to build a system of supports to help people find and keep housing.

Like many jurisdictions across Canada, York Region is facing ongoing housing affordability challenges. Home prices and rents continue to climb, and the demand for housing stability supports remains strong.

This report summarizes progress made by York Region in 2022 to advance the goals of Housing Solutions, York Region's 10-year Housing and Homelessness Plan. Key results in the fourth year of implementation include an increase in purpose-built rental, helping the highest ever number of households on the subsidized housing wait list access appropriate housing options and the delivery of housing stability supports to people experiencing or at-risk of homelessness.

Partnerships remain crucial to the success of York Region's housing plans. Sustained federal and provincial investment is essential to ensure York Region residents can access housing options they can afford.

York Region remains focused with our partners on helping residents find and keep appropriate housing, aligning with our vision to create strong, caring and safe communities.

OUR GOALS

1
Increase the supply of affordable and rental housing

2
Help people find and keep housing

3
Strengthen the housing and homelessness system

HIGHLIGHTS

Progress toward the Housing Solutions Phase 2 goals in 2022 included:

GOAL 1: Increase the supply of affordable and rental housing

- Council adopted the 2022 Regional Official Plan, and it was approved by the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing. The Regional Official Plan includes enhanced intensification, density and complete community requirements to direct substantial new growth in housing to areas well-served by transit and services.
- Staff completed a feasibility and public benefits review of a Vacant Homes Tax (VHT) and submitted to Council.
- Through Council, the Region continued to advocate for evidence-based policies to address housing supply and affordability challenges, including responding to the provincial Housing Affordability Task Force recommendations and new provincial legislation (Bill 109: More Homes for Everyone Act, 2022, and Bill 23: More Homes Built Faster Act).
- Work continued to increase community housing supply, including 265 new units in the City of Markham and 97 new units in the Town of Whitchurch-Stouffville, both to be owned and operated by Housing York Inc. (HYI). Planning also advanced for two additional HYI developments, one in the City of Markham and one in the Town of Newmarket.
- The Region was successful in its advocacy to be included in the Cities Stream of the federal Rapid Housing Initiative Round 3.

GOAL 2: Help people find and keep housing

- 629 households from the subsidized housing wait list accepted offers of housing—the highest number of households housed in a single year since the Region became responsible for housing in the early 2000s—including enrolling 356 households in the Canada-Ontario Housing Benefit program.
- The Region’s Outreach Program was enhanced with additional investment to expand supports and services to assist people experiencing or at risk of homelessness, including unsheltered individuals. A total of 572 unique people were assisted through the Outreach Program.
- Planning continued for a new men’s multi-service emergency and transitional housing development, with the Region substantially completing building design and continuing to engage with the public.
- The Region was successful in its advocacy for regulatory changes under the Housing Services Act, 2011, which will enable the Region to support housing providers’ long-term sustainability and count local investments towards mandated service levels.

GOAL 3: Strengthen the housing and homelessness system

- The first phase of the online housing offer process was successfully launched with nine community housing sites, providing a new way to offer available subsidized vacancies to wait list applicants. The system will help to reduce vacancy loss costs by more quickly matching applicants with available units and improve customer service for applicants and housing providers.
- The Region continued to coordinate the By-Name List Community Collaborative Table and successfully referred 132 people experiencing homelessness to the table to be matched with appropriate programs and supports.
- The Region continued to pilot an Emergency Housing Central Intake Line, providing a 24/7 central access point to emergency housing services and information for people experiencing homelessness.
- The Community Paramedicine at Clinic (CP@Clinic) was expanded to five additional seniors’ community housing sites, serving 257 clients, 787 visits and providing eight clients with ongoing community paramedicine support.
- The Community Paramedicine Outreach Program was expanded to provide multi-disciplinary intensive supports to people at risk of or experiencing homelessness, including encampments and other outdoor spaces.

SUPPORTING RESIDENTS DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

In 2022, York Region continued to support residents' critical housing needs during the pandemic through partnerships with community organizations, housing providers, local municipalities, and the federal and provincial governments.

Key actions to address pandemic-related housing needs included:

- The COVID-19 Community Coordination Initiative (3C) was established at the start of the global pandemic to identify needs and solutions with partners in a dynamic environment and to maximize resources. This initiative played a critical role in helping to coordinate and mobilize community response to emerging needs of marginalized residents, and it supported a Service Partners table through the provision of tools, resources and information sharing to increase the capacity of community service providers across the Region.
- Received approximately $48 million in funding under the provincial Social Services Relief Fund (SSRF) to support York Region's COVID-19 pandemic response from April 2020 to December 2022. SSRF funded primary care, mental health and addictions supports, homelessness prevention programs (such as rent and utility arrears), and improvements to existing congregate living settings. $7.3 million in SSRF funding supported the Region in building 26 new transitional housing units in the towns of East Gwillimbury and Georgina.
- Improved existing congregate living settings to align with infection prevention and control measures, including renovating seven facilities and installing 45 partitions.
- Received and allocated $1 million in one-time Regional funding under the Community Investment Fund to support pandemic response and recovery. The Community Investment Fund funded 26 non-profit community agencies to expand mental health and addictions supports, homelessness prevention services and emergency food access programs.
- Through a partnership with Peel Region, continued to provide voluntary isolation supports to York Region residents until March 2022. This partnership, alongside the COVID-19 Voluntary Isolation Centre the Region operated from January to June 2021, helped nearly 620 York Region residents since the start of the pandemic safely self-isolate and prevent the spread of COVID-19 among the most vulnerable residents.
- Received a federal/provincial funding allocation under the COVID-19 Resilience Infrastructure Stream of the Investing in Canada Infrastructure Program to support pandemic-resilient capital projects.
- Continued operations of a temporary Transitional Shelter, with capacity to accommodate up to 80 people experiencing homelessness. People staying at the temporary Transitional Shelter had access to case management, wellness and mental health programs, and supports to develop individualized housing plans and job search skills training. The Transitional Shelter closed in July 2022, after supporting 1,372 individuals including 496 people who found stable housing.
- Provided 180 people experiencing homelessness with a safe place to self-isolate, access health supports and recover from COVID-19 through York Region's temporary Self-Isolation Shelter, which closed April 2022.

2. Implement tools and policies to increase the affordable housing supply	2.1 Seek Council approval of the 2022 Development Charges Bylaw.	The 2022 Development Charges Bylaw was approved by Council in May 2022, and included $909 million of gross capital costs to support Housing Services. Bill 23, More Homes Built Faster Act, 2022 , which received Royal Assent on November 28, 2022, removed Housing Services as a service eligible for development charges funding .
	2.2 Continue to work with the Province to explore approaches to increase the supply of affordable housing.	Provided input on provincial approaches to housing supply and affordability through attendance at the provincial Housing Affordability Summit , and comments on the Housing Affordability Task Force Recommendations ; Bill 109, More Homes for Everyone Act, 2022 and Bill 23, More Homes Built Faster Act, 2022 .

The program provides renters with a portable benefit as an alternative to waiting for a subsidized unit to become available.
	1.2 Analyze Housing Services Act, 2011 regulatory amendments relating to service agreements, access system, service levels, and income and asset limits and plan for implementation.	Reported to Council in June 2022 on the impacts of new Housing Services Act, 2011 regulations. The regulations enable Service Managers to support housing providers' long-term sustainability through service agreements, provide applicants with more information about available housing programs, and will allow the Region to count certain local programs towards mandated service levels. The Region was successful in advocating to the province to ensure the new regulations granted flexibility to meet local needs.
	1.3 Complete an Investment Plan for provincial approval and implement the new consolidated provincial Homelessness Prevention Program, which combines the existing Community Homelessness Prevention Initiative, Home for Good, and the Strong Communities Rent Supplement Program, to support people experiencing or at risk of homelessness. Progressed planning and development for the new men's multi-service emergency and transitional housing facility. At the end of 2022, building design was substantially completed and the Region continued to seek local municipal planning approvals and conduct public consultation and engagement activities.

Enhanced the Region's outreach program by expanding supports and services to assist people experiencing or at risk of homelessness, including those living unsheltered. In 2022, 572 unique individuals were assisted through the Region's outreach program.
	3.2 Implement initiatives identified through the 360°Kids led Youth Homelessness Prevention and Housing Stabilization Strategy Committee, including youth focused diversion from emergency housing model.	Continued to participate as 360°Kids re-engaged the Youth Homelessness Prevention and Housing Stabilization Strategy Committee.
	3.3 Support Community Action Tables to inform the development and implementation of actions related to housing stability in the Community Safety and Well-Being Plan.	Brought together stakeholders and residents through Community Action Tables to develop actions to address community needs and priorities. To support greater housing stability, the Tables helped to coordinate a housing summit in south-central Markham and a tenant outreach project in central Newmarket. Under the Region's Community Safety and Well-Being Plan , 13 out of the 52 actions completed or underway in 2022 supported housing stability.
4. Support residents to age in their communities and influence the transformation of the long-term care sector	4.1 Refresh the York Region Seniors Strategy and develop a Two-Year Action Plan (2022 to 2024) to review the current direction, identify what has changed and where new areas of focus are needed to support seniors to age in place in York Region. Reg. 264/22 under the Fixing Long-Term Care Act, 2021 and the Health Standards Organization on the then draft National Long-Term Care Services standard. Provided Council-endorsed feedback in May 2022 to the Canadian Standards Association on the then-draft national long-term care home operations and infection prevention and control standard .

SYSTEM INDICATORS

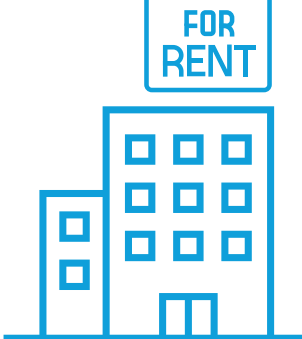

MARKET RENTAL HOUSING

Benchmark: 3% is considered a healthy vacancy rate.

In 2022, the maximum affordable rent for a household at the sixth income decile for renter households (those who earn $96,941 per year) in York Region was $2,424.

In York Region, the threshold was $564,326 in 2022, and the maximum affordable monthly carrying cost for a home purchased in 2022 was $3,956.

Source: York Region Measuring and Monitoring Report

Note: System Indicators that use the sixth income decile should be interpreted with some caution. The income level for the sixth income decile has risen faster in the past two years than what is typical. The 2022 income level is calculated based on 2020 numbers which were skewed higher due to COVID-19 income supports like the Canada Emergency Response Benefit. Further, the 2022 income level is multiplied by the Bank of Canada's Consumer Price Index which has seen substantive growth in the past two years due to inflation. The impact of these two factors has led to a substantial increase in the sixth income decile which is likely inflated. As such, affordability measures will have appeared to improve while the reality is likely different.

SYSTEM INDICATOR ANALYSIS

MARKET RENTAL AND OWNERSHIP HOUSING

In 2022, vacancy rates for purpose-built rentals decreased from 1.8% to 1%, which remains below the 3% benchmark generally considered to indicate a healthy rental market. Purpose-built unit rents have increased on average by 9% since 2019, while condominium unit rents have increased by 26% over the same period. The difference may be explained by rent controls applicable to purpose-built supply, as most of the Region's stock is older compared to newer rented condominium units. Rent control does not apply to units built after November 2018.

The percentage of new ownership housing that is affordable to households at the sixth income decile or below slightly increased from 0.15% in 2021 to 0.75% in 2022. This increase may be partially attributed to the impact of COVID-19 income supports and the effect of inflation on income data. Limited affordable ownership and rental housing options continue to affect the Region's long-term growth and sustainability. In May 2023, Council received the Affordable Housing Measuring and Monitoring report, which highlighted the ongoing affordability challenges and its impact on the Region.

COMMUNITY HOUSING AND HOUSING SUBSIDIES

In 2022, the Region provided housing assistance to 629 households from the subsidized housing wait list, an increase from 2021 when 329 households were housed. This marks the highest number of households housed in a single year since the Region began managing a centralized wait list in the early 2000s and is largely attributable to the high number of spaces that were allocated to the Region by the Province for the Canada-Ontario Housing Benefit (COHB). Of the 629 households, 357 received COHB or the York Region Portable Housing Benefit. Portable benefits help with the cost of renting a market rental unit and provide an effective alternative for some households compared to waiting for a community housing unit to become available. The remaining 272 households housed accepted units at community housing sites or a rent supplement with a private landlord. The Region's ability to continue to address the needs of a high number of wait list households depends on increased and sustained investments from the federal and provincial governments in new supply and in programs like COHB. Without it, our ability to help applicants remains limited.

The overall size of the wait list continued to decrease in 2022, from 15,679 in 2021 to 14,867 in 2022. The wait list has decreased by about 15% since 2019. Reasons for the decrease include removal of applicants who are not eligible under the Region's income and asset limits for subsidized housing, which Council approved in 2018, and cancellation of applications for those who no longer require housing supports or who did not respond to unit offers or multiple requests to update their files in accordance with provincial regulations.

The data for 2022 shows a decrease in average wait times for those who accepted a housing offer across all three applicant categories – seniors, non-senior single applicants with no dependents, and families. This is primarily a result of applicants with older application dates refusing offers for COHB. As a result, Housing Services staff can offer COHB to those who applied more recently in order of their application date and priority, and target support to those who need financial assistance. Applicants with the oldest application dates may be waiting for a unit at a specific housing provider site to become available.

HOMELESSNESS AND HOUSING STABILITY SERVICES

The number of unique individuals who accessed emergency housing decreased from 1,336 individuals in 2021 to 1,239 in 2022, while the average stay in emergency housing increased from 28 days in 2021 to 36 days in 2022. The Region has also seen an increase in the number of households accessing homelessness prevention and housing stability services to 1,979 individuals in 2022 compared to 1,852 in 2021. The number of people experiencing chronic homelessness continued to increase year-over-year, from 124 in 2019 to 202 in 2022. York Region's homelessness data reflects similar trends observed in other municipalities. York Region is in the process of developing a Homelessness Service System Plan, that will inform the next 10-year Housing and Homelessness Plan.

LONG-TERM CARE

The number of individuals waiting for a long-term care bed in one of York Region's municipal homes has increased slightly since 2021, from 1,594 individuals in 2021 to 1,647 individuals in 2022.

As part of the 2019 to 2023 Strategic Plan, York Region committed to "advocate to improve policy planning and decision-making for long-term care beds by developing a forecast for York Region, including required number, type and location." In 2022, the Region completed 23 advocacy actions to increase the supply of long-term care beds in York Region.
