

YORK REGION READINESS FOR TRANSPORTATION TECHNOLOGY ADVANCEMENTS

BRIAN TITHERINGTON
Director of Transportation and Infrastructure Planning

LAUREN CRAWFORD
Manager of Transportation
Long-Term Planning

Outline

- Background
- Implementing new technologies
- Tracking emerging trends
- Preparing for the long-term
- Summary

Background

Background

Recent innovations are business as usual

Implementing new technologies

Bluetooth and Wi-Fi traffic sensors

Driver Support System

Pedestrian Warning and Collision Avoidance System (PWCA)

Signal pre-emption for emergency vehicles using GPS radio

Mobile applications

Tracking emerging trends

City of Toronto automated shuttle trial

Image Source: Metrolinx

Exploring potential AV shuttles to and from GO stations in York Region

THE OTTAWA L5 PRIVATE TEST TRACK

Provides insight of into infrastructure required to support CAVs

Telecommunication technology evolution and pressures

4G

5G

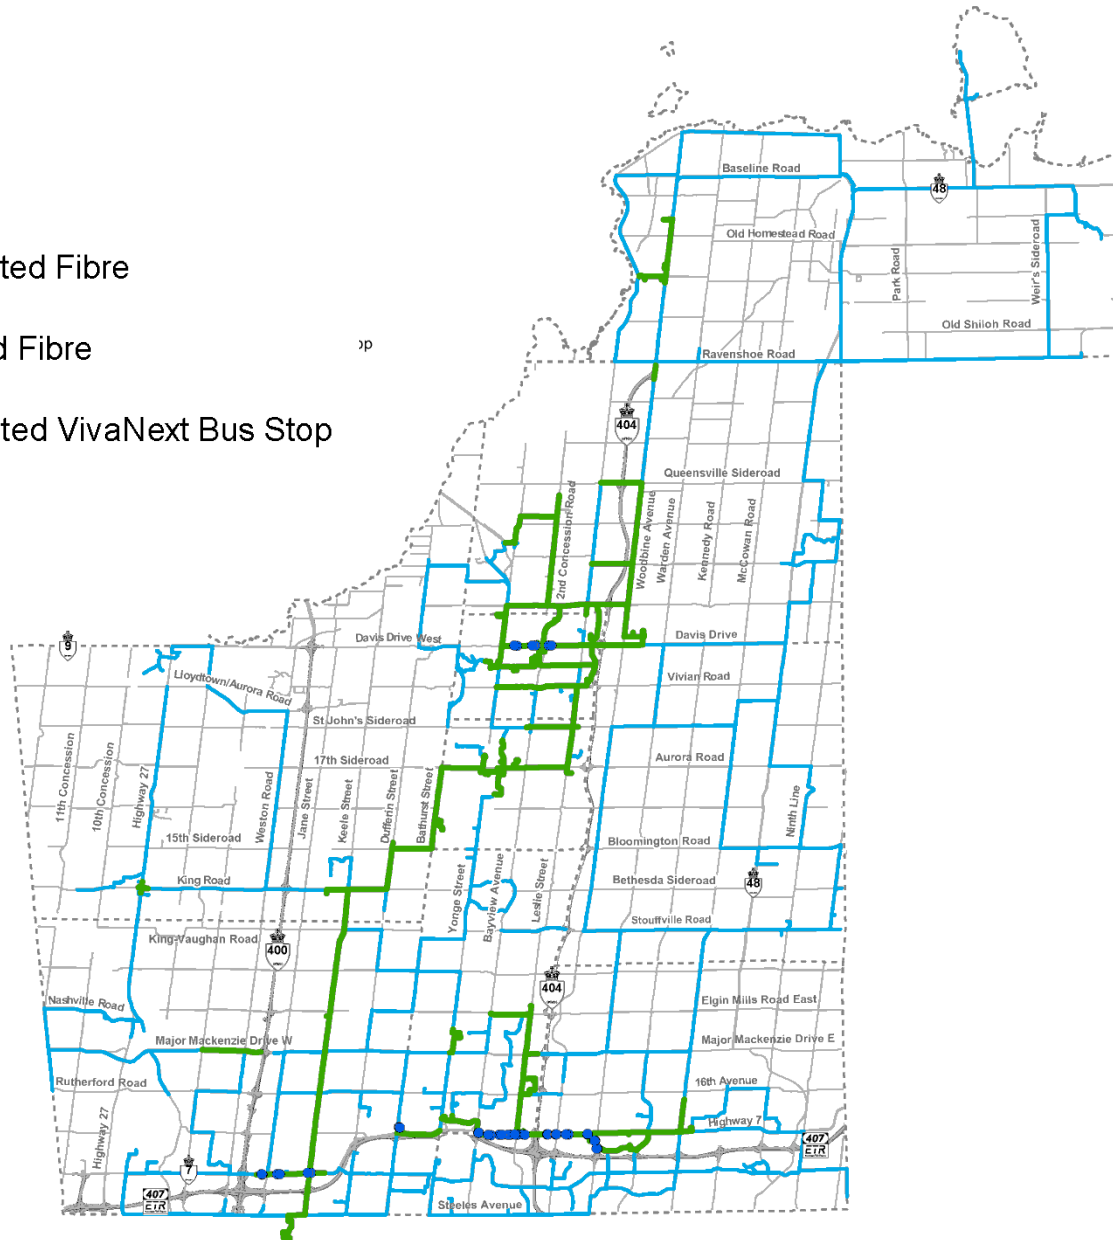

Weston and Colossus

YorkNet plays a key role in the Region's communication network

YorkNet Network

-  Completed Fibre
-  Planned Fibre
-  Connected VivaNext Bus Stop

Privacy and security concerns to be managed

As the Region is collecting more data from various sources, there is an increasing need for data privacy and security

Preparing for the long term

Coordinated action plan – research, partnerships, pilot projects

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Ontario

MINISTRY OF TRANSPORTATION

MACAVO

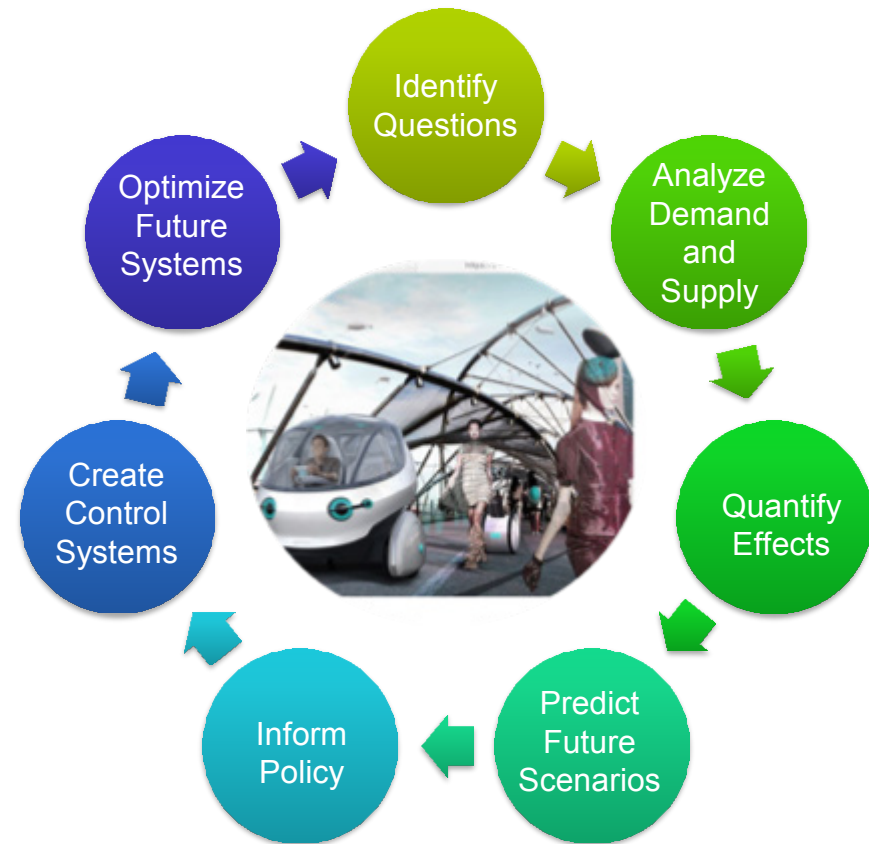

UTTRI

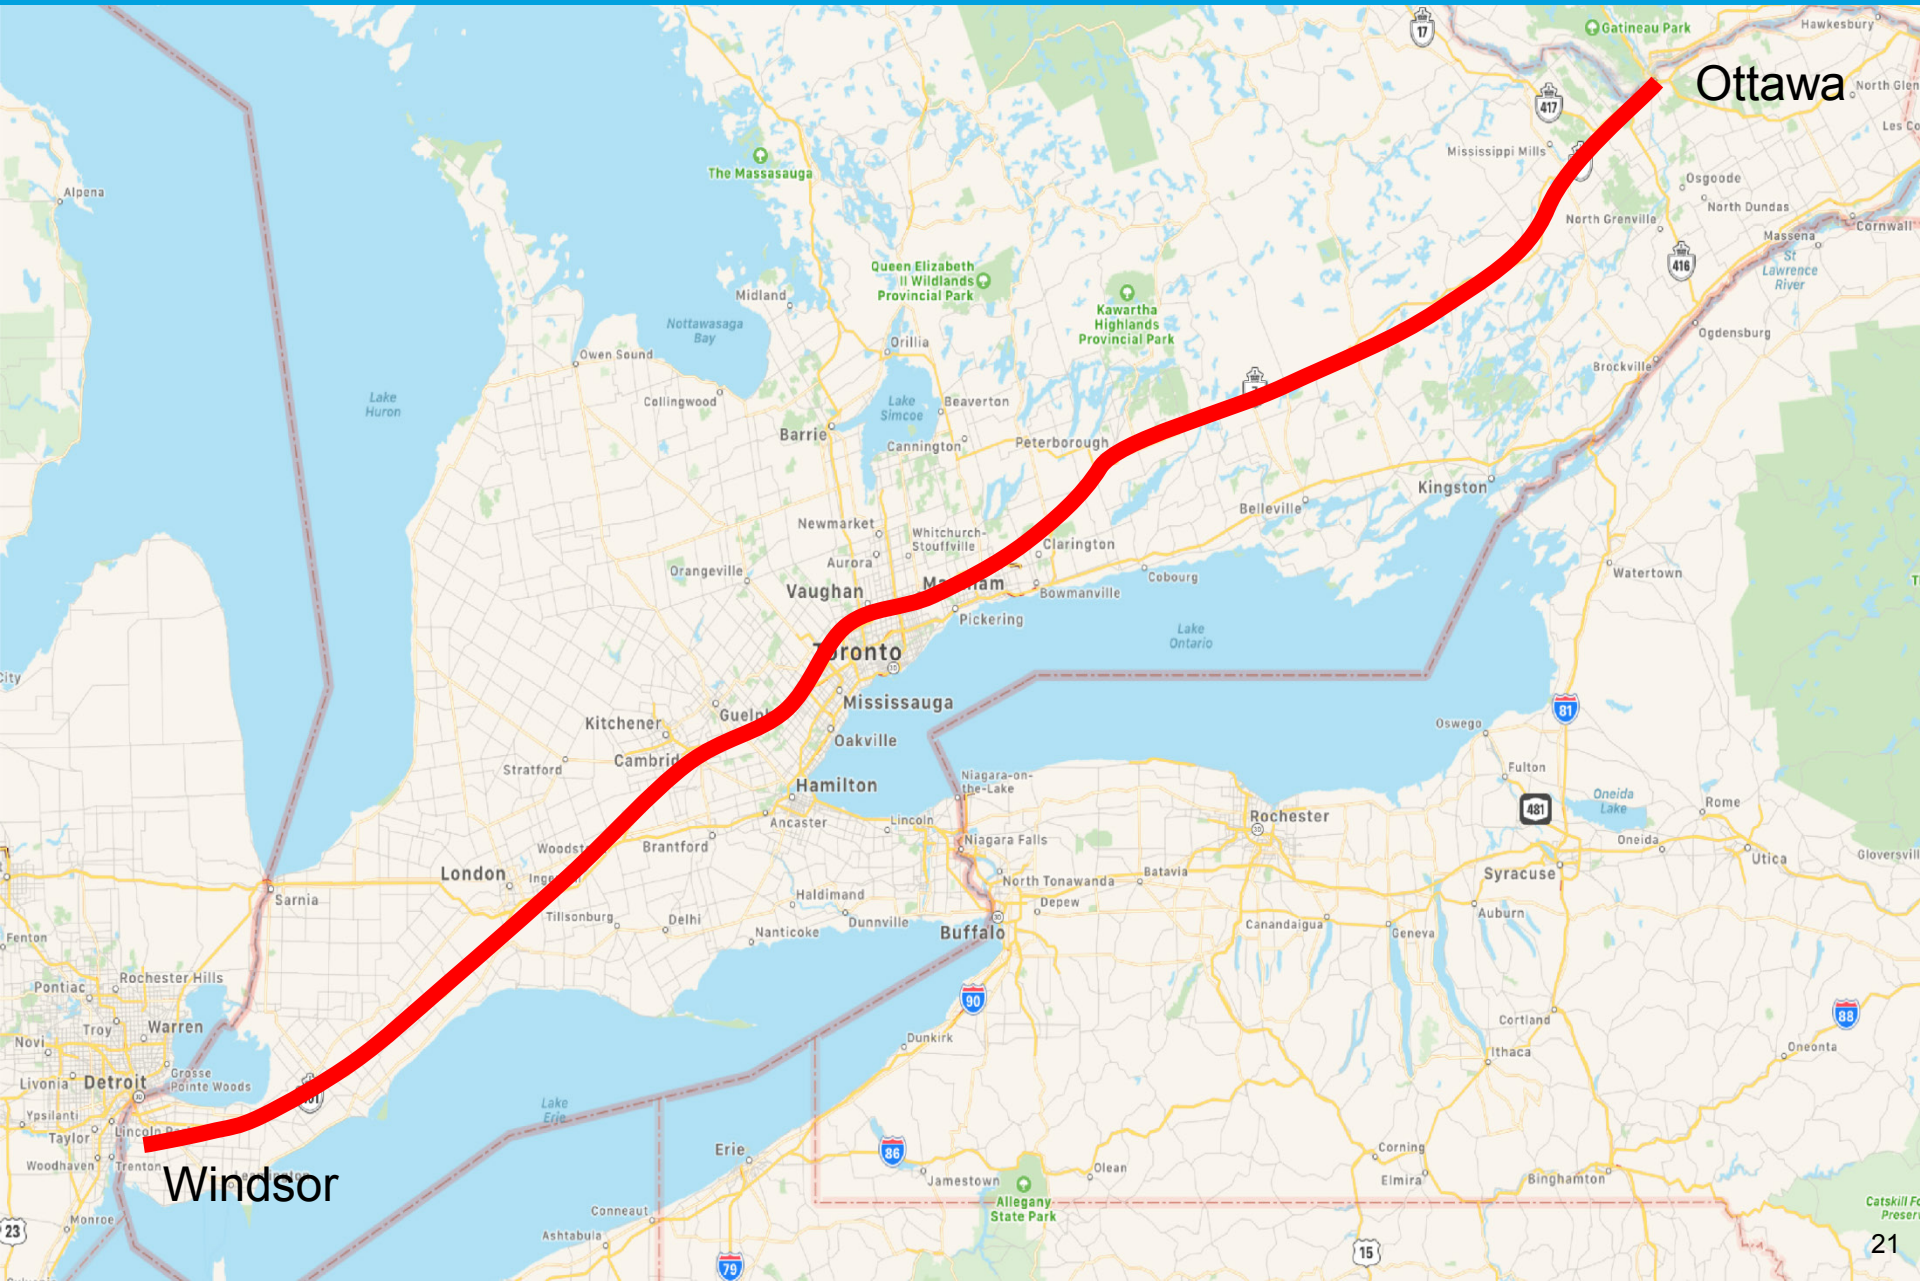

CUTRIC
CRITUC

407 ETR
Express Toll Route

iCity-CATTS Program

MACAVO

Ottawa

Toronto

Windsor

Communications pilot partnership with Metrolinx and 407 ETR

Summary

What to expect on the network in the coming year

Summary

Staff will continue to:

- Partner and pursue collaboration opportunities
- Monitor potential capital and operating budget pressures
- Update Council regularly on progress and accomplishments

Questions/Discussion

BRIAN TITHERINGTON

Director of Transportation and Infrastructure Planning

LAUREN CRAWFORD

Manager of Transportation Long-Term Planning

